Restoring our Past to Preserve our Future

1908

2020

Over 130 years ago in 1889 the Springfield News Paper predicted that Kellogg Hall would be “the handsomest edifice in the village”. Designed by Holyoke architect George B. P. Alderman and built by contractor H. D. Hoag from Belchertown, Kellogg Hall has remained the centerpiece of the town of Granby. Construction of Kellogg Hall was made possible by a generous donation from Chester Kellogg. Total construction cost was around $6,700. Kellogg Hall served both as a school and town offices for over a century. Today the dedicated members of the Granby Preservation Society work to restore and maintain Kellogg Hall. Our goal is to restore Kellogg Hall to its original grandeur and at the same time update it with modern amenities to bridge the centuries so that once again Kellogg Hall can be a viable venue for the benefit of Granby's citizens.
